❖ Physics Aptitude TEST (PAT)

The Physics Aptitude Test (PAT) has grown into a renowned national-level examination over the past five years, drawing students from across India. Initially organized by NSS's Uttamrao Patil Arts and Science College, Dahivel, and later in collaboration with KBC North Maharashtra University, Jalgaon, PAT has become a pivotal event for aspiring physicists. Transitioning from offline to online formats, PAT has consistently provided students with critical insights into their academic strengths and weaknesses, offering essential guidance for competitive exams and career counseling in physics. The event's increasing participation reflects its significance in shaping students' academic and professional trajectories in the field of physics.

Year	Event	Organizer	Mode	Number of Students Benefited	Summary
2019-20	Physics Aptitude Test (PAT)	NSS's Uttamrao Patil Arts and Science College, Dahivel	Offline	165	The PAT continued to be a key event in 2020, with 165 students participating in the offline test. The event provided insights into the students' capabilities in physics, helping them make informed decisions regarding their educational and career paths, and motivating them to consider physics-related careers.

“Geography Week 2020”

The Department of Geography at Uttamrao Patil Arts and Science College, Dahiwel, organized "Geography Week" from January 8th to 14th, 2020, in celebration of Geography Day. The week featured a variety of events, including essay competitions on general geography knowledge on January 9th and on plastic pollution and environmental issues on January 10th. A Geography Posters Competition was held from January 11th, concluding on January 12th. Hon. Principal Dr. B. D. Borse presided over the program, while Prof. S. J. Bhadane, the chief organizer, provided valuable insights on the interrelationship between science and geography and the issue of global temperature rise. Another distinguished guest, Prof. Dr. S. N. Sadanshiv, discussed the role of geography in various social sciences and the history of Geography Day celebrations. Students who excelled in the various competitions were awarded certificates and letters of appreciation. In the geography general knowledge competition, Kamble Harichandra Shekhar (S.Y.B.A.) won first prize, with Shewale Kisan Suresh (S.Y.B.A.) securing second place. The poster presentation competition also saw active participation. In his presidential address, Dr. Borse highlighted the geographical impacts of coastal and river environments with relevant examples. The program was effectively organized with the support of Prof. Dr. Suresh Ahire, Head of the Department of Geography, Prof. Ganesh Bachhao. Additional faculty members, including Prof. Yogesh Korde, Prof. Sunil Patil, Prof. Sanjay Gawli, Prof. Jagdish Patil, Prof. Avinash Patil, and Prof. P. H. Jadhav, were present. The event concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Prof. Shewale S. S.
